

Wedding Group Photos List

Here's a typical groups list. Think about the photographs you'll really use afterwards and try not to add more than a handful to it. You don't need every possible combination!

Apart from the groups, we need to allow time for the natural photos people like the most. You'd be amazed how easily a long list can take up your wedding day. We can also do requests as we go, so this list is just the essentials we definitely have to get.

Each of you with your parents
Each of you with your attendants

Both of you with all the rest of these:
